

Call For Abstracts

11th Annual Mitchell P. Fink Scholar Day

April 14, 2022 | Noon - 4pm | University Club

A signature scholarship event of the Department of Critical Care Medicine

Research Types

Abstracts must present one of the following:

- Original research
- Educational initiatives, or
- Quality Improvement projects.

Submission Requirements

Work may have been presented at a previous local, regional or national meeting.

However, work must not have been presented at a previous Fink Scholar Day or published in the peer-reviewed literature.

Submit abstract as a Word document or PDF with only one table or figure embedded.

Include the following at the top of the document:

- Title (125 characters including spaces)
- Authors, including first name, last name, and degrees
- Primary affiliation of first author
- Level of training of first author (student, resident, fellow, faculty member, staff researcher, visiting scholar)
- Abstract type (original research, educational initiative or QI project)

Abstract body limit: 2,200 characters and spaces.

No more than one table or figure.

Sections to include in the abstract body:

- Objectives (or for Education/QI projects, a Statement of Need)
- Methods
- Results
- Conclusions

Deadline

Abstracts must be submitted by 5 pm, Friday March 11, 2022 to Mackenzie Coffy at MartinM9@upmc.edu.

Notification

First authors and mentors will be notified of their abstract's status by Monday, March 21, 2022.

On The Day

First authors will have the opportunity to discuss their posters and engage with others during the "professor walk round."

Category Winners

Authors with the strongest abstract in each research category will receive a prize.

Questions?

Please contact Lori Shutter at ShutterLA@upmc.edu

